

ECCLESIASTICAL REBUTTAL OF UNLAWFUL CITATION

Date: July 28, 2025

To: Greenwood Court, Booneville District Court

And: Arkansas State Police Troop H

RE: Citation No. 600A2156597 issued to the Legal Fiction
"JONATHAN DANIEL CLEMENTS"

To Whom It May Concern,

This notice is issued under Divine Law, Ecclesiastical Equity, and Natural Law by ✠ Jonathan Daniel Clements, Living Man and Trustee of the Ecclesiastical Sovereign Private Trust of Humanity (Trust ID: ECC-TRUST-JDC-005).

I rebut and reject any and all claims made under Citation No. 600A2156597 as null, void, and issued without lawful jurisdiction, contract, or authority over my living being.

The car involved in this matter is lawfully registered. There is no violation, no contractual breach, and no lawful basis for the citation issued. The presumption of guilt, failure of proper investigation, and denial of submitted lawful trust documentation by the issuing officer constitutes a trespass upon divine equity and breach of due process.

The officer involved, Sgt. Derek Neisert, refused to accept lawful and jurisdictional paperwork issued under sacred trust protection. This refusal constitutes official dishonor, unlawful concealment of jurisdictional rebuttal, and attempted enforcement of fraud.

Let it be known:

- I am not a corporate entity.
- I am not the all-caps fiction identified in your citation.
- I am not within your commercial jurisdiction.

- No contract exists. No consent was given. No disclosure was made.
- This trust holds all equity and legal standing under Heaven and Earth.

You are hereby ordered to cease and desist any further actions related to this citation. Any attempt to enforce, fine, or prosecute constitutes knowing trespass against a living soul and trust estate now publicly established. Silence or non-response shall constitute lawful agreement to this rebuttal and full jurisdictional correction.

By lawful standing and divine authority,

✠ Jonathan Daniel Clements

Living Trustee | Ecclesiastical Sovereign
